Valter White, Tax Assessor-Collector announced this week that sale of 1953 auto license in Milam county would begin shortly after February 15.

White was in Thorndale early Tuesday checking on the number of poll taxes paid there before the deadline Saturday. A complete report will be made as soon as figures are compiled at the office, he reported.

Up to Saturday some 2,500 poll taxes had been paid in the county, however the last day's rush presumably ran this figure to a higher number.

This is especially true at night. Every person should copy down his license plate number and keep it in his billfold or purse so that in an event that his car is stolen he can quickly give such information to the sheriff or highway department. Comments From A Pastor

WHAT ABOUT GOD?
Rev. Harsh Brown, pastor
The First Christian Church
Ephesians 4:4-6

spirit, just as you were called to the one hope that belongs to your call, one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of us all, who is above all and through all and in all.

You are God! That may seem a hard statement but let us think about it. A little girl began to draw.

"What are you drawing," asked th mother.

"I'm drawing a picture of God," said the child.

"That's impossible. No one knows what God looks like."

"They will when I get through."

We are drawing a picture with our lives. You are the best representation of God today—you as a follower of Christ determine the power of God in the world today.

Tow else can God work except through us? How else can people be brought into a closer fellowship with God except through us? Can God eradicate social evils?—Yes, but only through human channels.

Can God bring about better relations between man? Yes, but only through men.

Apart from man God can do nothing to develop a better, more peaceful and enjoyable world.

Man is free. Of this fact we are certain. Philosophers, great thinkers since time began have all discussed this important relation between God and man. Some disagree but nearly all do agree that man is a free creature. God created us, put us here and are entirely free to do as we will concerning even our maker.

God also loves us but he wants us to love him not because we want to. We are able to find God and love him and we are also able to turn away; it is entirely up to us, we are free.

We are free and yet we are bound by chains. God loves us so much and that love is so compellin that we are not at ease until we find rest in his love. Let us thing of God as our father, the analogy that Jesus used. Any good father will give his children freedom, freedom to live their life, make their own choices, find out things for themselves. That is the way we grow, by finding things out, discovering what lies behind the surface.

But again, as an ygood father knows, freedom is a dangerous thing. Too much freedom coupled with a mind any body can be a deadly thing. We would think a father stupid to turn over the keys to his highpowered Cadillac to his ten year old son. We know that freedom carries with it definite responsibilities and until a person is able to meet those required responsibilities his freedom must of necessity be impaired. But to carry this illustration a bit farther. Let me ask this question. Why wouldn't you let your ten year old child take off in your Cadillac? Because you love him. Freedom is there but the freedom has restrictions. Why? Because of love.

We ought to be thankful for God's trust in us. We are free to develop the natural, God given resources around us. We are like a young child with a highpowered automobile, with such resources as atomic power, and we are desperately seeking the restrictions that must be placed upon it.

God has gone as far as he can in placing the restrictions, he must respect our freedom by not interfering. We all know God's laws, he has restricted himself. That is something we can depend on.

We know that gravity will always pull down, that water will run down hill, that 2 plus 2 makes 4, that wheat seeds planted will grow into stalks of wheat and not corn. God is dependable, God is a father that we can trust and who trusts us completely.

Often times this trust is broken. Man willfully abuse the trust placed in him by God. But even so, God loves him and wants him to return to a right relationship.

We see evidences of broken trust all around us. The very presence of jails and courts of law indicates that trust has been misused and broken. People who fail to grasp the relationship between trust and freedom and responsibility, who take freedom to mean the ability to do anything that comes to mind, cause society to suffer.

It is indeed tragic that in such a world as ours—a world so full of possibilities for improving the wekk-being of people—that we fail to carry our and develop these possibilities to their fullest extent. We are failing to grasp the basic idea of God—that all of his children are a family with him as the father.

Think of the difference it would make if all Christians truly were interested in all people as members of God's family. By accepting God as our Father we automatically make all men our brothers. We are our brother's keeper, make no mistake about it. We are responsible, especially here in America where vast power os ours. We are responsible as no other nation has even been. All five talents are ours and we had better make good use of them or we will be found wanting.

Let us put our trust in God a our father and proceed to live as if we really meant it. What kind of a picture of God are you drawing?

TURKEY GROWERS

F. Z. Beanblossom, Poultry Marketing Specialist from A&M College offers the following five items for consideration for turkey growers in Texas.

ITEM I—CAN WE INCREASE CONSUMPTION?

(a) Keep turkey competitive, price and quality; (b) Make turkey available daily; (c) Make turkey available in every food outlet; (d) Make turkey available in size and quantity needed.

ITEM II—WHAT WILL INCREASE IN POPULATION MEAN?

(a) In 1800, 10 out of every 11 persons lived on farms; (b) Today every farm worker must produce enough for 15 people; (c) In 1975, every farmer must produce enough for 10 people.

ITEM III — NUMBER OF POUNDS OF STORAGE STOCKS TO BE CONSUMED BEFORE 1953 CROP IS AVAILABLE:

(a) More than at any time during the past few years. (Approximately 147,000,000 pounds).

ITEM IV—WHAT WILL THE GENERAL ECONOMIC CONDITION BE OF THE UNITED STATES IN FALL OF 1953?

(a) According to all reports, it should be good; (b) Full employment; (c) Farm prices may be down slightly.

ITEM V—WHAT DO PRESENT PLANS OF PRODUCERS INDICATE?

(a) Outlook for 12 to 15 percent fewer turkeys in 1953 than 1952; (b) Interest lagging in turkey broiler production; (c) No demand for New York dressed carcasses in Texas; (d) Not much change in number of small turkeys as compared to heavy turkeys produced in Texas in 1953.

(e) Price to be received by producers this fall will depend upon such factors as prices of competitive products, supply and demand of turkey meat, what happens to storage stocks between now and September 1, as well as the general economic conditions of the country. In summarizing it would seem that turkey producers will be more cautious in 1953 and that possibly those with experience and those who follow recommendation management and feeding practices and start with diseases free poult will be most likely to make to make profits.

An outstanding product for any car
that uses
SAE 20 oil!

HUMBLE

...a MUST
for new cars

Prevents "4000-mile knock"

Detroit's automotive engineers have discovered that high compression engines need an entirely new type of motor oil. With conventional oils in the crankcase, the new engines have a tendency to ping, or knock, after four to eight thousand miles of driving.

This "4000-mile knock" is caused by combustion chamber deposits; these increase the compression ratio to a point where no commercial gasoline will give you anti-knock performance.

Humble Esso Uniflo, an entirely new type motor oil, prevents the formation of deposits that cause "4000-mile knock" in high compression engines if you begin to use it regularly in the first 1000 miles of driving.

Protects against friction wear and acid corrosion

Friction is the chief cause of wear in automobile engines. Moving parts in the new engines are so carefully machined that they fit very closely. This gives you much better performance from your car, but it also requires superior lubrication. Heavy oils and oils that "thicken" in cold weather don't flow readily between such closely fitting parts. The result is excessive wear from friction, and expensive engine overhauls . . . to minimize friction wear . . . again you need Humble's new Esso Uniflo Motor Oil.

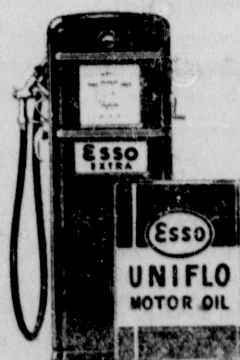

Esso Uniflo has such an amazingly high viscosity index that it gives you the quick-flowing characteristics of an SAE 5W oil at 25° below zero Fahrenheit, and the tough, full body of an SAE 20 oil at 110° Fahrenheit.

Furthermore, the additives in Esso Uniflo are anti-acid—this new type oil cuts acid corrosion as much as 50%.

Uniflo Motor Oil gives such outstanding performance in reducing friction wear and acid corrosion that it is profitable to use it in any car—1951, 1952 or 1953—that uses SAE 20 oil or lower.

HUMBLE OIL &
REFINING COMPANY

HUMBLE

You need only one grade of Humble Esso Uniflo.

You use it year 'round. Esso Uniflo meets all the specifications for SAE viscosity classifications 5W, 10W, 20W and 20. It is a heavy duty, detergent oil, recommended for API service classifications ML (light duty), MM (medium duty), MS (severe duty) and DG (general diesel duty). Its viscosity index is amazingly high.

Premium quality—premium price

Humble Esso Uniflo costs something more than most motor oils. But you'll agree that the small extra cost—less than one-tenth of a cent for each mile of driving—is cheap insurance against "4000-mile knock," friction wear, and acid corrosion!

A Word to Owners of Older Automobiles

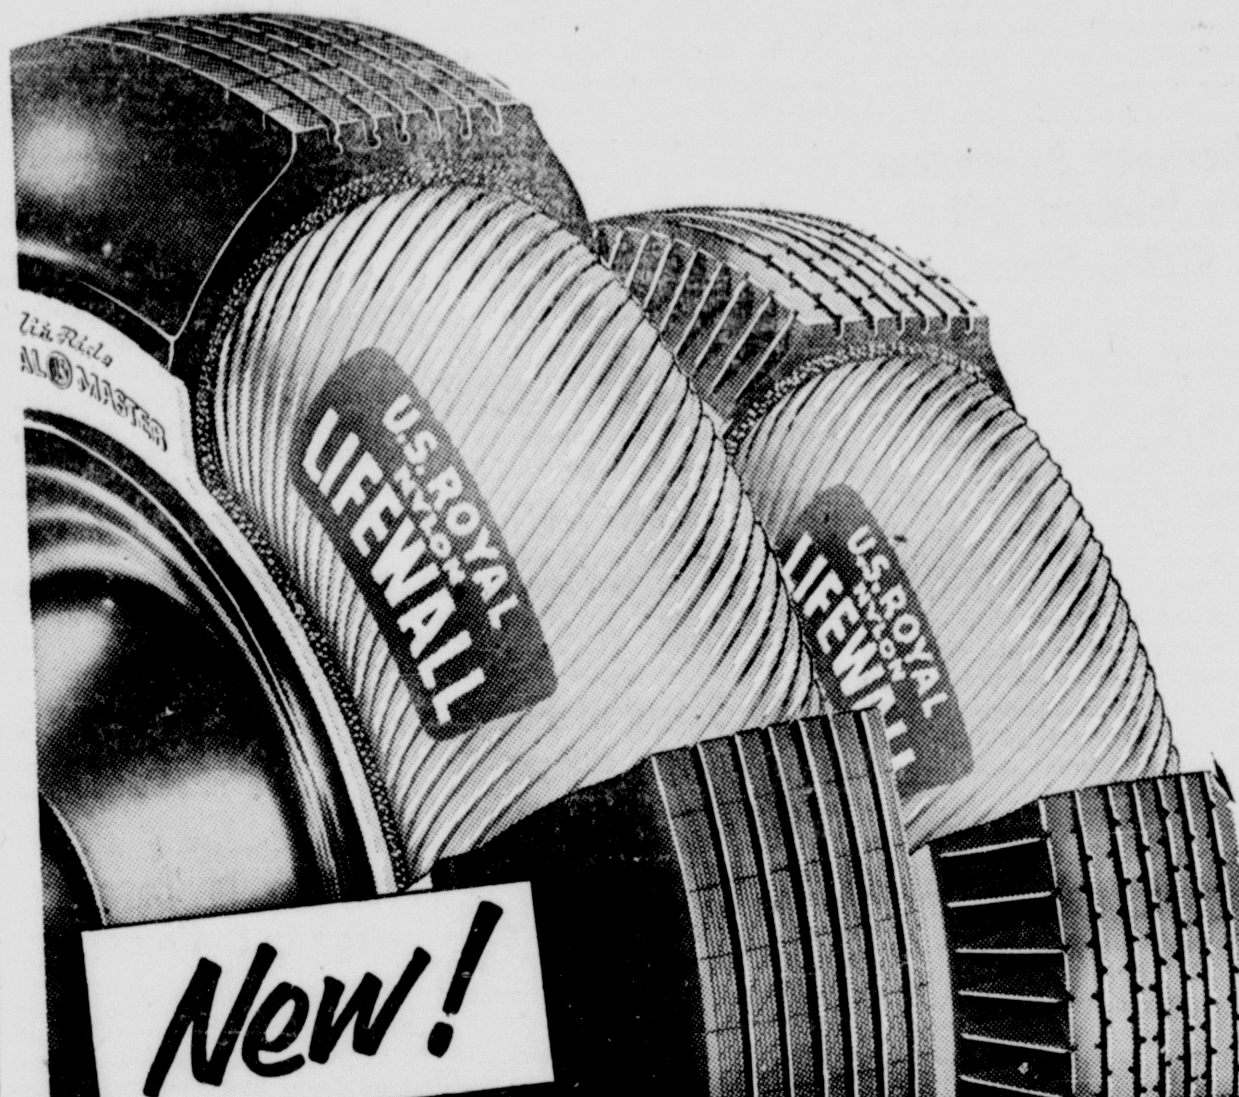

If you use an oil meeting SAE viscosity classifications up to 20—you will find it profitable to change to Humble's new type Esso Uniflo. It will protect your car against friction wear and acid corrosion; reduce starting drag and extend battery life.

If your engine has just been rebuilt—change to Esso Uniflo. It will prevent the deposits causing "4000-mile knock"; it will protect against wear from friction and corrosion, reduce starting drag and extend battery life.

If you use SAE 30 or SAE 40 oil—Humble continues to recommend Esso Extra Motor Oil No. 3, a high quality, heavy duty, detergent oil with a viscosity index second only to that of Esso Uniflo.

School Teachers Told To Get Ready For Legislative Struggle

Austin.—Texas school teacher and administrators are being told to get ready for their toughest legislative struggle in 15 years. Charles H. Tennyson, executive secretary of the Texas State Teachers Association, in his first legislative bulletin of the season.

If Tennyson is correct, the battle over how much to increase teacher pay and how to finance it will be quite a problem.

Legislation commonly referred to as the Gilmer-Aiken school laws was enacted four years ago, drastically revising the administrative and financing setup of public school and giving teachers substantial pay raises.

The ground work for the G-A laws was carefully laid by more than a year's study on the part of lay groups, educators and legislators. Their recommendations—most of which finally became laws.

Date Set For Two Austin Concerts

Austin.—The University of Texas Cultural Entertainment Committee will present the Mia Slavenska-Frederic Franklin Ballet, with Alexandra Danilova as guest star, Feb. 20 at the Austin City Coliseum.

The program will include the dance versions of "A Streetcar Named Desire," and "Mile. Fifi." Both have received critical acclaim in New York City and other entertainment capitals.

A company of 50 and an orchestra will appear with the three great former stars of "Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo." In addition to the new "Streetcar" and "Fifi" numbers, they will perform "Symphonic Variations" and "The Nutcracker Suite."

Cultural Entertainment Committee also will present the Piano Duo with Arthur Gold and Robert Fildale, Feb. 5 in Gregory Gymnasium. The brilliant two-piano team has an outstanding repertory, Dr. Archie Jones, CEC chairman, said. Blanket-tax and season-ticket holders will be admitted free.

Mrs. Ernest Fischer who recently underwent surgery at a local hospital is reported to be resting satisfactorily.

CAPITOL DOINGS

In their inaugural talks the Lieutenant Governor followed by the Governor pledged an era of constructive state government to the people of Texas.

Dr. George W. Jackson, former medical director of State Hospitals and Special Schools, addressed the House Wednesday on a 14-point improvement plan in state hospital system.

Members had until Wednesday midnight as a deadline to file their first bill in order for the bill to carry one of the 150 numbers for which a drawing was held. Other bills and those filed afterwards are numbered in consecutive order as filed with the chief clerk of the House. Since bills appear on calendars in numerical order, a low number on a bill is very desirable.

Public hearings have been scheduled for afternoon and nights for all committees on Monday through Thursday of every week and every one of the 43 permanent committees has at least one scheduled meeting each week. The time of hearing on a bill is posted on a bulletin board at the Capitol and released to newspapers for publication. Several committees held organizational meetings and bulk of committee hearings are expected in February and March.

But—you get the idea.

First All-Aluminum Army Ground Vehicle In Production

Army Ordnance officials have released the fact that the first all-aluminum ground vehicle ever mass produced is rolling from assembly lines at Pontiac Motor Division. The vehicle is the highly versatile "Otter," T46E-1 amphibious cargo carrier, capable of operating in snow, heavy mud, up steep grades, in the water and negotiate practically any terrain.

Extreme light weight of the vehicle has been withheld previously is that it reveals that the army plans the vehicle for non-armored, non-combat use, and that it can be easily air-borne.

It is powered by an aircooled four-cylinder engine of the Continental Motor family of special Ordnance power plants. The vehicle will carry about 14 tons of pay load. The vehicle has a top speed of about 28 miles per hour on land, and about 4 miles per hour in water, when propeller driven at the stern.

Pig Production Drops To Lowest Level Since '35

Texas pig production in 1952 dropped to the lowest level since 1935. The drought, declining prices and the high cost of feed grains are cited as the chief causes for the drop.

The following persons have been selected as enumerators for the survey: Mrs. Alice T. Evans, Mrs. Julia M. Cooper, Mrs. Helen B. Wells, Mrs. Alice R. Du Bois, Mrs. Serena W. Bridges.

All delegates were in agreement on the need of a bridge spanning the Brazos River. The real controversy was the exact location of the highway leading from the Brazos River toward East Texas.

Legion Backing Amendment On Narcotic Drug Act

Full backing has been given by the American Legion to the legislative amendment to the state Uniform Narcotic Drug Act offered Thursday in the senate by Senator Abraham Kazen, Jr., and in the house by Representative Bill Allen state Commander Albert Brown announced today.

Senator Kazen is a member of the American Legion's state legislative committee. The American Legion at its last state convention held in Dallas last August went on record for a stronger enforcement of the narcotics law in Texas.

The Legion backed bill is described by Commander Brown as more stringent than present federal laws.

"It is the intention of this bill to get first convictions for violations of the Act where the amount of drugs involved is small by omitting the separate provision that the suspended sentence law shall not be applicable to this kind of violation. The bill leaves it up to the discretion of the court and jury to assess suspended sentences where the facts a circumstance warrant it," the Legion leader said.

The proposed bill provides penalties as follows: "Any person violating any provision of this Act shall upon first conviction thereof be punished by confinement in the penitentiary for not less than two nor more than 10 years and upon the second conviction thereof be punished by confinement in the penitentiary for not less than five nor more than 25 years and upon third conviction shall be punished by confinement in the penitentiary for not less than ten years."

Scouts, Leaders Make Reservations For 1953 July Jamboree

Reservations in the Heart O' Texas Council delegation to the National Boy Scout Jamboree this summer are coming in fast, and are expected to increase this week with February the final month to make them.

Rev. John Solomon, local scoutmaster announced that train reservations had been made for scouts and leaders who are to go to the jamboree from this district. Names of all the scouts and leader will be published at a later date.

Fifty-six Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts of the nine-county council already have reservations to the jamboree to be held this year at Irvine Ranch near Santa Ana, Calif., July 17-23.

Jay Harrison, council Jamboree committee chairman, said Feb. 25 is deadline for making reservations.

An estimated 50,000 Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts from throughout the United States and foreign countries will attend the Jamboree, called the World's Largest Camp. Each council is allowed one reservation for each Scout and Explorer unit.

Under this plan, the Heart Council has a maximum of 140 reservations. Twelve leaders will accompany the delegation.

The local Jamboree delegation will leave Waco July 9, by special train. Stop-overs at Royal Gorge, Salt Lake City, San Francisco are planned enroute to the Jamboree. The group will arrive at the Jamboree site July 13, and will start the trip home July 24. The special train made up of Scouts from four other councils will stop over at Grand Canyon.

Eighty-two boys and leaders from the Heart Council attended the last National Jamboree held at Valley Forge, Pa., in 1950. An increase in units in the council makes the larger delegation possible for the council to the 1953 Jamboree.

Other Central Texas towns represented in the reservations are Clifton, Gatesville, Fort Hood, Teague, Hico, Killeen, Belton, Cameron and Rockdale.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER CAN'T UNDERSTAND WHY PEOPLE NEED ANY MORE LAWS, SAYS HE HAS PLENTY

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm in the Marlow community has a novel idea this week, but we doubt if he has a full understanding of his problem.

Dear editor:

As everybody in Texas knows, the state legislature is now in session and I have been keepin up a little with activities in Austin and as far as I can tell things are movin along at about the normal rate, all members made up their minds fast and voted unanimously the first day to appropriate money to pay their expenses, and while they may not be quite so harmonious on later topics, things still seem to be under control.

But I was readin in a paper last night where already over 120 bills have been introduced, with more to come.

What I want to know is: isn't law-makin subject to the same laws of supply and demand that beef cattle are? Where does the demand for so many new laws come from? Where's the fellow who hasn't got enough laws?

As far as I can tell, I've personally got all the laws I need, and can think of lots of people who have more than they need. I've got respect for law, all right, and I also like pecan pie, but it can be overdone.

Readin about so many new laws been proposed, I sat down and tried to think of a new law I could use, and I'll have to admit I can't think of a single one. Just not in the market for any more. Everything is going along all right out here at Marlow, can't tell people are any better or any worse than they were ten years ago when we had maybe 150 fewer laws than we got now.

I don't suppose they'll follow my suggestion, but I've been speculatin on what would happen if the Legislator just declined to pass any new laws this session, if they just met, talked, reflected on things, deplored the encroachment of government, reaffirmed their faith in democracy, appropriated whatever money they had on hand or comin in, and held off on any new laws for the next two years. Personally, I don't believe the conduct of this community would be affected either way. Anybody bent on breakin a law would still have plenty to break, and those sort of law-abidin by nature would keep on bein that way.

If you think this suggestion has any merit, you can take over, as this is as far as I ever go. Thinkin is a big enough effort without havin to follow it up with action.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Census Records Used As Substitute For Birth Certificates

Persons lacking birth certificates or other legal evidence of citizenship, age or family relationships can obtain transcripts of their personal census records which are, in most instances, acceptable substitutes, according to District Supervisor James M. Hamilton of the U. S. Census Bureau.

More than 100,000 Americans turned to the Census Bureau for such evidence in 1952. They needed proof of identity or age for Government and defense jobs, Social Security, passports, the Armed Services, and in connection with insurance and estate cases.

Supervisor Hamilton pointed out that personal information recorded by the Census Bureau is entirely confidential and may be furnished only upon the written request of the individual to whom it relates or his legal representatives. The normal fee is $3.00 for searches of two censuses for one individual, each application being handled in regular turn which generally requires approximately 30 days to complete service. Expedited handling is furnished for a $4.00 fee.

Application blanks and instructions may be obtained from the Census Bureau's District Office at 925 T & P Building, Fort Worth, Texas or by writing to the Bureau of the Census, Washington 25, D. C.

Press, Radio Release Information On Polio Vaccine

An Associated Press news story announced a "safe new vaccine against polio." The statement is credited to Dr. Harry M. Weaver, director of research for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, at a dinner meeting for NFIP trustees. As you know, NFIP has financed research for polio vaccine for some time. The announcement that such a vaccine has been found, however, does not preclude the use of gamma globulin as a temporary preventative of paralysis from polio. Additional fields tests will be necessary to prove the effectiveness of the vaccine. These tests will be conducted during 1953, according to the Associated Press story. We quote:

"The vaccine would not be available generally until after these human tests are run. Scientists first must learn how long it takes the vaccine to give antibodies, how long the protection lasts, whether booster shots might be needed after one vaccination. But it means scientists have gone as far as they can in the laboratory. The next step definitely must be human tests on many youngsters."

Blood Mobile Unit Due In Rockdale Feb. 25; New Chairman Named

One hundred and thirty-five blood donors offered blood at Thorndale when the mobile unit was in that town last week. A. W. McCullin, county chairman, reported.

McCullin said that 50 of these donors had to be turned back due to the fact that they had colds or other reasons.

Jamie Clark was general chairman of the activities in Thorndale. He has worked with Red Cross activities in this county for a number of years.

The unit was recently in Cameron at which time 65 pints of blood were obtained.

A meeting was held in Rockdale Tuesday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce office. Milton Brown will succeed McCullin as county chairman. Bob Greenwald was named recruitment chairman of the Rockdale area. Bill Cook, publisher of Rockdale Reporter was named publicity chairman.

Mrs. Jesse Bankston has been named vice-chairman of the Red Cross Service group and will contact workers and helpers when the bloodmobile unit makes its visit to Rockdale on Wednesday February 25.

The Red Cross has been called upon to undertake an immediate and dramatic expansion of its participation in the National Blood Program to make available all the gamma globulin possible for the prevention of paralysis from poliomyelitis. Experiments conducted over the past two years in Provo, Utah; Houston, Texas; and Sioux City, Iowa; under the auspices of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and as a part of their total research program has demonstrated the effectiveness of this treatment. The Red Cross provided the gamma globulin used in these experiments without cost.

The acceptance by the Red Cross of the request of the Office of Defense Mobilization to undertake this program places a vast new responsibility upon the Red Cross and in turn upon the American people. It takes approximately one pint of blood to make an average dose of gamma globulin as used for poliomyelitis. One injection protects a child from a period of one to five weeks following exposure.

Estimates based on past experience indicate that polio may strike in epidemic proportions in at least 150 counties next summer, and if so, at least 2,000,000 children in those counties may be exposed to the disease. Since gamma globulin is also needed for the for modification of measles and in the prevention of infectious hepatitis, there will of necessity be a shortage of the serum at the height of polio season.

Biggest Texas Draft Call In Two Years Scheduled For March Quota

Austin.—State selective service headquarters Tuesday announced the biggest state draft call in two years—2,898 men for March.

Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state director, said more than 6,800 men also would be examined in March to keep the state ready to fill future calls.

Local quotas were to be figured and mailed to local boards about Feb. 10.

General Wakefield said local boards will be authorized to induct men in March down to the age of 19 years and 9 months. They may examine men down to the age of 19 years and 4 months.

Not many men below the age of 20 were expected to be inducted in March, however. Wakefield said local boards will be advised to fill March calls to the greatest extent possible with men 20 or older.

Coming up this year... 50th Southwestern Life's Birthday

TWO fiftieth birthdays, as a matter of fact. The first historic day will arrive in March. It was on March 10, 1903, that the State of Texas issued a business charter to the Company.

The second milestone will be reached on July 4, 1953. On Independence Day in 1903, this Company issued its first life insurance policy. That policy was purchased by a Texan, naturally.

Southwestern Life has been doing business with Texans, growing with Texas, ever since. Today, more than a quarter million Texans are providing a measure of future financial security for themselves and their families through their investment in Southwestern Life Insurance.

In a half century Southwestern Life has become what the people of Texas have chosen to make it. Their faith and support have caused it to become the largest life insurance company in the Nation which does business only in its home state. And, in the year ended December 31, 1952, Texans purchased more Southwestern Life insurance than in any previous year.

For records such as these we give grateful thanks to the policyowners who made them possible.

In the years ahead Southwestern Life, believing in the modern private enterprise concept of profit through service, fully expects its business progress closely to parallel the development of growing, expanding Texas.

OUTLAWS WERE BETTER KNOWN BY NICKNAMES

Most early Texas outlaws bore nicknames, which are better known now than their real ones.

Few people knew who William Bonney of New York was. But his nickname, "Billy the Kid" is a household word in the Southwest.

John Wesley Hardin was known to his pals as "Little Arkansas." A prominent member of his gang, Hamilton Anderson, was called "Ham."

A nervous Georgia dentist, Doctor John H. Holliday, immigrated to Dallas for his health and swapped his dental instruments for a six-shooter. The world knew him simply as "Doc Holliday."

Sam Bass' alias was, ironically enough, "Honest Eph."

Bass' right hand man, Frank Jackson, was known as "Bloody." Jesse Woodson James was "Dingus" to his colleagues, and to the public he was often Mr. Howard. His brother Frank used the pseudonym, Mr. Ben Woodson. Another member of his gang, Richard Liddell, was called "Little Dick."

"Butch Cassidy," leader of the "Wild Bunch," was named by his parents George Leroy Parker. Most members of his gang also bore colorful sobriquets. Harry Longbaugh was known as the Sundance Kid. Ben Kilpatrick was referred to as "The Tall Texan." George Curry was "Flat Nose." Harvey Logan, Butch's righthand man, was known as "Kid Curry," the escape artist—because no jail would hold him.

When "Curley Bill," one-time partner of John Ringo, was finally killed by Wyatt Earp, after having run roughshod over West Texas and Arizona, few people know that his real name was William Brocius.

Jim Miller of Pecos City and points west was appropriately known as "Killin' Miller."

John "Black Jack" Ketchum, noted train robber, took the nickname of a colleague in crime, whom he outlived—"Black Jack" Christian.

The colorful "Three Fingersed Jack" originally bore the prosaic

At 9:30 a. m. there will be an election of representatives to the state meeting.

In addition, there will be public speaking contests, examinations for the Lone Star Farmer degree, chapter rating contests, and screening for the American Farmer degree. Appropriate awards will be made by the special awards committee in the Vocational Agriculture Building.

This is the second area meeting to be held at Blinn College this year. The first contest being held last fall.

The faculty and students of Blinn College will assist in this meeting.

Leroy Thompson, FFA instructor at Yoe High school reported that he would take about 10 members of his chapter to the meeting.

name of John Dunlap.

John Underwood, a respected traildriver who joined Joel Collins and his gang was known as "Old Dad."

George Lanthrop, a Texas killer, who also gained a sufficient reputation in Wyoming to get himself lynched was known as "Big Nose."

One of the most colorful pests bent on being a badman was Bill Rayner of El Paso. He dubbed himself "The best dressed badman of Texas," and took great delight in his title of "Fancy Bill"—until he picked a fight with Bob Benick, who cleared the field for another "best dressed badman."

not meet the demands for gamma globulin at the height of the poliomyelitis season next summer, the gamma globulin will be available only in epidemic areas.

In accepting the request of the Office of Defense Mobilization to finance the extraction of gamma globulin from whole blood, the Red Cross made two reservations: (1) The Red Cross will not assume responsibility for allocation or distribution of the blood fraction; (2) this supply of gamma globulin will be furnished without charge to whatever distributing agency is selected, "in keeping with the policy governing Red Cross distribution of blood and blood products."

Past experience indicates that some two million children will be exposed to poliomyelitis this summer, and it may reach epidemic proportions in about 150 counties. It takes one pint of blood (500cc) to make 7-cc of gamma globulin, which is considered enough for one dose. One dose gives immunity for about five weeks. Gamma globulin is not yet recognized as a polio preventive, but has proved helpful in reducing the number of cases of paralysis from polio.

The defense quota for Central Texas Regional Blood Center has been increased from 666 pints per month to 1185 pints per month. Plans do not call for additional staff for another mobile unit until the participating chapters recruit sufficient donors to keep the present staff and equipment going at full capacity. When mobile unit collections average the 150 productive donors now assigned as the unit quota, consideration will be given to expanding the staff in order to provide for additional mobile unit visits to all chapters.
